Table of Contents

Editors ............................................................... V
Introduction ....................................................... vi

1 Rhetorical Foundations ........................................ 1
   An Introduction to Rhetoric, Brenta Blevins ............. 3
   Writing with the Rhetorical Appeals: Opportunities to Persuade in Context, Amy Berrier ....................... 18
   Reading for the Rhetorical Appeals, Lauren Shook ...... 27
   The Canons of Rhetoric as Phases of Composition,
   Will Dodson and Chelsea Skelley ....................... 36
   Academic Integrity, Charles Tedder ...................... 43
   Reflecting Back: Compiling the Portfolio and Writing
   the Critical Reflection Essay, Emily Hall ............... 50

2 Rhetorical Approaches ......................................... 57
   Reading Critically, Sonya Blades ......................... 59
   Invention, Asking Questions to Find a Starting Point,
   Kathleen T. Leuschen ....................................... 67
   Pre-Writing Strategies: Methods to Achieve a Successful Argument, Kristine Lee ...................... 71
   Staying on Track with Your Thesis: Considering Written,
   Visual, and Spoken Arguments, Emily Dolive .......... 77
   Arrangement as Rhetorical Composing,
   Chelsea Skelley .............................................. 83
   Personal Voice and Style in Academic Discourse,
   Gia Coturri Sorenson ....................................... 88
   Understanding Tone and Voice, Lilly Berberyan .......... 95
   It's All—Well, a Lot—in the Delivery, Brenta Blevins ... 102
Re-Seeing Revision: A Process of Experimentation,
Carl Schlachte ........................................ 109

3 Rhetorical Research ........................................ 117
Finding a Conversation to Find Research,
Courtney Adams Wooten ................................ 119
Conducting Academic Research, Jenny Dale .......... 124
The Art of Summarizing, Paraphrasing, and Quoting,
Brian Ray .................................................. 135
Situating Evidence through Contextualization,
Alison M. Johnson ........................................ 142
Organizing Research by Synthesizing Sources,
Amanda Bryan ............................................. 149
Rhetorical Elements of Academic Citation,
Ben Compton ............................................... 154

4 Rhetorical Situations ........................................ 167
Understanding Course Materials as Part of the Classroom Conversation, Alicia Beeson ................ 169
Writing a Rhetorical Analysis, Lauren Shook .......... 175
Viewing Peer Review as a Rhetorical Process,
Lavina Ensor ............................................... 184
Writing about Your Composing Process,
Jessica D. Ward ........................................... 189
Conferencing Rhetorically, Rae Ann Meriwether .... 195
Genres Other than Essay Writing in Academic Discourse, Alison M. Johnson .......................... 198
Rhetorical Analysis and Visual Media,
Zach Laminack ............................................. 207
Analyzing Film Rhetoric, Dan Burns .................... 215
The Multiliteracy Centers: Empowering Writers,
Speakers, and Designers to Communicate
Effectively, Stacy W. Rice ............................. 227

Appendix ...................................................... 233
Index ......................................................... 262